INDEX TO VOLUME CXIV.

Abbot, S. L. Cases of pericarditis treated with salicylate of sodium, 49, 60; chorea excited by sudden return of hearing: chorea treated with urethran, 419.

Abbott, S. W. Recent progress in public hygiene, 247.

Abdominal Contractions, Rotch, T. M., 242, 252.

Abdominal Surgery. The indications for laparotomy in penetrating stab and shot wounds of the abdomen, Bryant, J. D., 12; exploratory incisions of the abdomen, Polk, W. M., 47; laparotomy in penetrating stab and shot wounds of the abdomen, 65; laparotomy in the treatment of penetrating and visceral injuries of the abdomen, Dennis, W. S., 207.

Abortion. The advisability of inducing abortion in cases of so-called uncontrollable vomiting of pregnancy, Doe, O. W., 121, 132.

Abscess. Pelvic abscess in the male, Burchard, T. H., 495.

Adulteration of food and drugs in New York, 139.

Ætiology of disease, Haven, A. C., 467.

Age. Hygiene of old age, Wood, H. C., 518.

Air. A sterilized atmosphere, Prince, D., 444.

Albumen. Albuminuria in health, Noorden, C. M., 550.

Allen, H. Two instances of adenoid disease of the roof of the pharynx, which exhibited unusual features, 519.

Altitude. The effect of high altitudes on cardiac disease, Loomis, A. L., 471: a statistical inquiry regarding the relation of high altitudes to nervous diseases, Dana, C. L., 492.

Amalgam. Copper amalgam, Rollins, W. H., 175.

Amyloid Degeneration. Localized amyloid degeneration: amyloid lymphoma, Fitz, R. H., 389.

Anæmia. Cases of anæmia, Whittier, E. N., 57; a case of essential pernicious anæmia, Shattuck, F. C., 107.

Anæsthesia. Ether and chloroform once more, 426.

Anatomy. Recent progress in anatomy, Dwight, T., 224; brain of a porpoise, Spitzka, 375; abnormal artery of the pharynx, Farlow, J. W., 437; the arrangements of museums of anatomy, 474.

Antipyrine. Unpleasant effects following antipyrine, Graham, W., 261.

Appendixcæci. Vermiform appendicitis and general peritonitis complicating the puerperal period, Dearborn, J. G., 295.

Army. Hospital nursing corps for the army, 42.

Arsenical Wall-papers, 233; arsenic in wall-paper, 401.

Ascites. Permanent drainage in ascites, Caille, A. G., 180.

Ayer, J. Acute articular rheumatism, 157.

Ayer, J. B. Poisoning by three drachms of tincture of belladonna, 10; co-existence of scarlet fever and varicella in a child two and a half years old, 108; eclampsia due to fright or to the shock of an injury, 395; case of scarlet fever (second attack) preceded and followed by a scarlet rash, 252.

Bacillus. The staining of the bacillus of tubercle, Cushing, E. W., 268, 277.

Bacteria, Marcy, H. O., 321; exhibition of preparations of septic bacteria with observations on puerperal septicæmia, Cushing, E. W., 346; a consideration of the bacteria of surgical diseases, Ernst, A. C., 443; a sterilized atmosphere, Prince, D., 444.

Baker, H. B. Causation of pneumonia, 490.

Baker, W. H. Imperforate hymen with retention of the menstrual flux, 290, 295; the treatment of cancer of the uterus, 409, 416.

Bancroft, W. B. The Marine Park, South Boston, as a bathing-place, 478.

Beaumetz, D. Lecture on hypnone, 97.

Becker, A. R. Electricity as a therapeutic agency in gynæcology, 22.

Beckwith, (New Haven.) The treatment of lacerations of the cervix uteri, 570.

Belladonna. Poisoning by three drachms of tincture of belladonna, Ayer, J. B., 10.

Beverly, M. Nerve suturing, 190.

Bibliography. American Surgical Association, Transactions. Vol. III., 351; Bell, A. N., climatology and mineral waters of the United States, 350; Bourneville and Bricon, P., manuel de technique des autopsies, 184; Buck, A. H., a reference hand-book of the medical sciences, embracing the entire range of scientific and practical medicine and allied science, by various writers, 255; Buckley, L. D., acne, its etiology, pathology and treatment, 64; Clowes, F., a treatise on practical chemistry and qualitative inorganic analysis, 90; Corning, J. L., brain rest: being a disquisition on the curative properties of prolonged sleep, 64; Corning, J. L., local anæsthesia in general medicine and surgery, 377; Denison, moisture and dryness: or the analysis of the atmospheric humidities in the United States, 350; Fagge, C. H., the principles and practice of medicine, 328; Flint, A., a manual of auscultation and percussion, 137; Frankland, E., inorganic chemistry, 137; Garnier, M. P., dictionnaire annuel des progrès des sciences et institutions médicales, 622; Gubb, A. S., aids to gynæcology, 17; Hartman, J., facts and mysteries of spiritism learned by a seven years' experience and investigation, 210; Harvard College, annual report of the president and treasurer, 211; Hingston, W. H., the climate of Canada and its relations to life and health, 350; Hueppe, F., the methods of bacteriological investigation, 423; Hudson, E. D., the essentials of physical diagnosis of thoracic diseases, 255; Ireland, W. W., the blot upon the brain, 304; Lund, E., Hunterian lectures on some of the injuries and diseases of the neck and head, the genito-urinary organs, and the rectum, 233; Massachusetts General and Boston City Hospitals, annual reports, 547; May, C. H., manual of the diseases of women, 17; Morris, R. T., how we treat wounds to-day, 304; Otis, F. N., practical clinical lessons on syphilis and the genito-urinary diseases, 424; Page, R. C. W., a chart of physical signs of diseases of the heart and respiratory organs, including thoracic aneurism, 137, 497; Palmer, A. B., the temperance teachings of science, 256; Parker, W., cancer, 401; Peyer, A., an atlas of clinical microscopy, 64; Pick, T. P., fractures and dislocations, 352; Ranney, A. L., practical suggestions concerning the varieties of electrical currents and the uses of electricity in medicine, 64; Remsen, I., an introduction to the study of compounds of carbon: or organic chemistry, 94; Rietschel, H., Lüftung und Heizung von Schulen, Ergebnisse im Amtlichen Auftrage Ausgeführter Untersuchungen, 352; Roberts, J. B., field of limitation of the surgery of the human brain, 41; Sajous, C. E., diseases of the nose and throat, 112; Sée, G., diseases of the lungs, 111; Shepard, J. H., elements of inorganic chemistry, descriptive and qualitative, 90; Smith, J. L., a treatise on the diseases of infancy and childhood, 377; Stewart, F. E., Quiz compend of pharmacy, 574; Thompson, H., on the suprapubic operation of opening the bladder for stone and for tumors, 424; Tyson, J., a guide to the practical examination of the urine, 64; Warlomont, E., a manual on animal vaccination, preceded by considerations on vaccination in general, 256; Webber, S. G., a treatise on nervous diseases, 40; Wilson, J., drainage for health, or easy lessons in sanitary science, 352; Weisse, F. D., practical human anatomy: a working guide for students of medicine and a ready reference for surgeons and physicians, 280; Wise, T., Alpine winter in its medical aspects, with notes on Davos Platz, Wiesen, St. Moritz and the Maloja, 40; Wolff, L., applied medical chemistry, 17.

Bidwell, W. B. A case of fractured skull, with autopsy, 294.

Biggs, H. M. The etiology of rabies and the method of M. Pasteur for its prevention, 298.

Biography. Baldwin, W. O., 528; Bethune, G. A., 336; Bochefontaine, 308; Brownell, W. P., 24, 96; Cobbold, E., 308; Codding, G. H., 398; Collins, I. G., 398; Dechambre, A., 140; Dyer, A. D., 360; Farnham, H. P., 577; Flint, A., 259, 264, 286; Goodenough, L., 360; Green, J. O., 24, 120; Griswold, G., 236, 298; Gudden, B. von, 600; Guernsey, D., 398; Hardy, W. L., 428; Hayward, J. McL., 264; Hodgson, G. W., 523; Hutchins, S., 120; Kane, J. H., 308; Lombard, F. H., 168; McCoughlin, J. A., 164; Morse, H. G., 480, 524; Ollier, L. X., 499; Otis, R. M., 288; Parker, D., 456; Pierce, G. W., 480; Post, A. C., 165; Richardson, E. C., 48; Root, O. D., 212; Shepard, W. H. H., 480; Smith, J. H., 216; Trumbull, S., 628; Vanderpoel, S. O., 260; Warner, B. H., 343; Whittemore, J. H., 48, 69, 72, 96, 286; Woodward, R., 24, 46.

Blake, C. J. and Rotch, T. M. Reflex aural symptoms without aural disease: aural disease with reflex symptoms, 419.

Blake, Mary E. Poem at annual dinner of the Massachusetts Medical Society, 567.

Blood. Does the sulphate of quinine, when given in moderate doses, increase the number of the red blood corpuscles? Hare, H. A., 372.

Boardman, W. E. A case of concealed accidental hæmorrhage, 463, 464; tedious labor with remarks on its conduct, 464.

Bone. Tuberculosis of bone, 17.

Boston. The health of Boston for the year 1885, 331.

Bowditch, H. I. Pulmonary œdema rapidly appearing after thoracentesis, 251.

Bowditch, V. Y. Ten months' experience with pneumatic differentiation, 473; homœopathy as viewed by a member of the Massachusetts Medical Society, 584, 605.

Bradford, E. H. Two cases: operation for the cure of spina bifida, and for the radical cure of hernia, 169, 176; the ætiology of lateral curvature, 241, 251; anchylosis of elbow: fracture of elbow: gunshot wound of chest, 252.

Bradford, E. H. and Burrell, H. L. Report of progress in orthopedic surgery, 413.

Brazil. Yellow fever in Brazil; Freire's inoculation, Lane, H. M., 534.

Breast. The prevention of mammary abscess, Edis, 286.

Bremen, L. Essential vertigo, 467.

Brooks, E. The obligation of states and citizens to preserve the health of the people, 517.

Brouardel. Poisoning an infant by its mother's milk, 166.

Brown, F. F. A case of co-existence of scarlet fever and measles, 226.

Brown, W. S. Gynæcological hints and hobbies, 588, 592.

Bryant, J. D. The indication for laparotomy in penetrating stab and shot wounds of the abdomen, 12.

Buckler, T. H. Sparteine at home, 627.
Bullard, W. N. Chronic tea poisoning, 314, 321; a case of lupus erythematosus, 438.
Burchard, T. H. Pelvic abscess in the male, 495.
Burrall, F. A. The treatment of diabetes, 349.
Burrell, H. L. Recent progress in orthopedic surgery, 413.
Butler, R. G. Mitral stenosis, 492.
Cabinet Officers. The health of cabinet officers, 331.
Cabot, A. T. A tumor of the bladder complicated by the presence of a calculus, 7; a case of multiple calculi in the bladder, 8; amputation at the shoulder-joint for sarcoma of the arm, 11.
Caille, A. G. Permanent drainage in ascites, 180.
Calculus. A tumor of the bladder, complicated by the presence of a calculus, Cabot, A. T., 7; a case of multiple calculi in the bladder, Cabot, A. T., 8; urethral calculus, Porter, C. B., 8; pulmonary calculus, Shattuck, F. C., 395.
Canedy, F. J. Post-mortem in a case of measles, with some remarks upon the treatment of pulmonary œdema, 250.
Caput succedaneum, Fifield, W. C. B., 158.
Carbuncle. The treatment of carbuncle, Collins, J., 117.
Carroll, A. L. Case of meningeal extravasation, with remarks on the localization of the superficial lesions, 396.
Causality in disease applied to the phenomenon of vomiting in pregnancy, Kelly, J. E., 337, 345.
Cephalotome, Reynolds, E., 296.
Cerebral Surgery, 41.
Cimbali. The mechanical treatment of pleuritic effusion, 381.
Circulatory System. A case of cyanosis, Spring, C. W., 4; pericarditis treated with salicylate of sodium, Abbot, S. L., 49, 60; a case of ulcerative endocarditis, Purser, 141; parietal thrombus of the aorta, Gannett, W. W., 158; report on recent progress in thoracic diseases, Shattuck, F. C., 199; a case of perforating ulcer of the stomach, opening into the left ventricle and causing death by hæmorrhage, Finney, 285; abnormal artery of the pharynx, Farlow, J. W., 437; traumatic aneurism of the internal carotid artery, Prewitt, T. F., 446; the effect of certain physiological principles that have been noticed in aid of the circulation of the blood, 467; the effect of high altitudes on cardiac disease, Loomis, A. L., 471; a preliminary account in regard to circulatory and respiratory changes observed in animals placed in the pneumatic cabinet, Donaldson, F., 472; mitral stenosis, Butler, R. G., 492.
Chaclacayo trephined skull, 412.
Chadwick, J. R. Seven cases of congenital and one of traumatic stenosis or atresia of the female genital canal, 505, 514.
Channing, W. Recent progress in the care of the insane, 291, 318.
Chapin, C. V. Humanized and bovine vaccine virus, 70; humanized virus once more, 143.
Chapin, H. D. Rheumatism of early life, 231.
Chatard, F. E., Jr. Extrusion of fœtal membranes at the seventh month with subsequent retraction, 357.
Cheever, C. A. A case of multiple sarcoma of the skin, 33.
Chemistry. Recent progress in chemistry, Hills, W. B., 272.
Children. A case of tracheotomy in a neonatus, Hanson, H. H., 105; recurrent headache in children and its treatment, Sturgis, R., 128; should infants be nursed at night? Reynolds, J. P., 254; report on diseases of children, Rotch, T. M., 392; artificial feeding of infants, Keating, J. M., 539; rheumatism of early life, Chapin, H. D., 231; the hygiene of the newly-born, 333.
China. Suicide in China, 45.
Chloroform. Ether and chloroform once more, 426.
Chorea excited by sudden return of hearing: chorea treated with urethran, Abbott, S. L., 419.
Clairvoyant doctors and their prescriptions, 354.
Clark, F. C. Preliminary medical education, 298.
Climate. International Congress of hydrology and climatology, 263; recent literature on climatology, 350.
Cocaine. Physiological and therapeutic effects of cocaine, 19.
Coe, H. C. Is disease of the uterine appendages as frequent as it has been represented? 398.
Cohen, J. S. Lupus of the throat, 520.
Coleman, J. S. A case simulating and believed by all consultants to be abdominal pregnancy at full term; laparotomy; cæsarian section and removal of a living child weighing seven pounds, 445.
Collins, J The treatment of carbuncle, 117.
Color Blindness. Physical examination of candidates for the United States naval and military academies, Jeffries, B. J., 407.
"Compound Oxygen," 523.
Conception after curetting of the uterus, 118.
Concussion. A case of concussion followed by paralyses, pointing to hæmorrhage into the fissure of Rolando, Walton, G. L., 3, 11.
Congress. A National Medical Congress, 424.
Contagious Diseases. The cause and cure of contagious diseases, Durgin, S. H., 75, 86.
Cooper Medical College. "God save the Alumni Association of Cooper Medical College," 165.
Craniometry. The Chaclacayo trephined skull, 412.
Cremation: a conservative view, 258.
Crozier, T. How does irreducible hernia affect life insurance? 177.
Curtin, R. G. Rocky-Mountain fever, 489.
Cushing, E. W. The staining of the bacillus of tubercle, 268, 277; exhibition of preparations of septic bacteria with observations on puerperal septicæmia, 346.
Cushing, H. W. Subluxation of the radial head in children, 77, 85.
Cutaneous System. A case of multiple sarcoma of the skin, Cheever, C. A., 33; report on the progress of dermatology, Tilden, G. H., 367; a case of lupus erythematosus, Bullard, W. N., 438.
Cyanosis. A case of cyanosis, Spring, C. W., 4.
Daly, W. H. The simplest and most efficient treatment of diphtheria, 545.
Dana, C. L. Total trigeminal paralysis, with alternate hemiplegia: the nerve of taste, 302; a statistical inquiry regarding the relation of high altitudes to nervous diseases, 492; tea-poisoning, 406.
Davenport, B. F. Pharmaceutical notes, 6.
Davenport, F. H. Report on progress in gynæcology, 105.
Dearborn, J. G. Vermiform-appendicitis and general peritonitis, complicating the puerperal period, 295.
Death from hæmorrhage into the abdominal cavity during menstruation, Penny, E. J., 357.
DeBlois, T. A. Cases of laryngeal œdema, 571.
Delafield, F. Chronic catarrhal gastritis, 581.
Delavan, D. B. Buccal tuberculosis, 543.
Dengue. Researches in the ætiology of dengue, McLaughlin, J. W., 468.
Dennis, F. S. Laparotomy in the treatment of penetrating and visceral injuries of the abdomen, 207.
Dentistry. Copper amalgam, Rollins, W. H., 175; recent progress in dentistry, Rollins, W. H., 511, 536.
Diabetes. Post-partum glycosuria, Minot, F., 254; diabetes and perforating ulcer of the foot, 210; the significance of small quantities of sugar in the urine, McBride, T. A., 348; the treatment of diabetes, Burrall, F. A., 349; a case of diabetes in a child-bearing patient, Warner, E., 436; a study of diabetes mellitus, 570.
Diagnosis. A fatal error in diagnosis, 91.
Digestive System. Vaginal and vulvar enterocele, Thomas, T. G., 38; epithelioma of the œsophagus, Grauer, F., 111; rectal disease of uterine origin, Strong, C. P., 151, 157; operations for the radical cure of hernia, Bradford, E. H., 169, 176; early laparotomy in intestinal obstruction, 186; the surgical treatment of perityphlitis, 257; a case of perforating ulcer of the stomach, opening into the left ventricle of the heart, and causing death by hæmorrhage, Finney, 285; a case of diabetes in a child-bearing patient, Warner, E., 436; diagnostical laparotomy, Johnson, C., 421; recent progress in dentistry, Rollins, W. H., 511, 536; two instances of adenoid disease of the roof of the pharynx which exhibited unusual features, Allen, H., 519; lupus of the throat, Cohen, J. S., 520; artificial feeding of infants, Keating, J. M., 539; chronic catarrhal gastritis, Delafield, 581; the influence of fluids (Boissons) on nutrition and in the treatment of obesity, Robin, A., 602.
Diphtheria. Diphtheria treated by the galvano-cautery, 478; an epidemic of diphtheria traced to its source, Lee, B., 515; the simplest and most efficient treatment of diphtheria, Daly, W. H., 545.
Diseases common to animals and men, 138.
Disinfection. The report of the committee of the American Public Health Association on disinfection and disinfectants, 162.
Dislocations. Subluxation of the radial head in children, Cushing, H. W., 77, 85.
Doe, O. W. The advisability of inducing abortion in cases of so-called uncontrollable vomiting of pregnancy, 121, 132.
Donaldson, F. A preliminary account in regard to circulatory and respiratory changes observed in animals placed in the pneumatic cabinet, 472; the functions of the recurrent laryngeal nerve, 542.
Downes. Action of sunlight on micro-organisms, 166.
Drainage. Permanent drainage in ascites, Caille, A. G., 180; continuous preventive disinfection of house drainage, 517.
Draper, F. W. Recent progress in legal medicine, 129.
Driver, S. W. Treatment of irreducible and strangulated hernia, 178.
Drugs. Adulteration of food and drugs in New York, 139.
Dudley, P. The sanitary significance of sporadic typhoid fever, 540.
Dunn, B. F. Co-existence of scarlet fever and measles, 287.
Durell, T. M. Typhoid fever in Somerville, Mass., 60.
Durgin, S. H. The cause and cure of contagious diseases, 75, 86.
Dwight, T. Recent progress in anatomy, 224.
Ear. Recent progress in otology, Morse, H. L., 154; some of the less common forms of mastoid disease, Green, J. Orne, 341, 348; acute non-suppurative catarrhal inflammation of the middle ear, Sexton, S., 370; chorea excited by sudden return of hearing, Abbot, S. L., 419; reflex aural symptoms without aural disease: aural disease with reflex symptoms, Blake, C. J. and Rotch, T. M., 419.
Edes, R. T. Rapid œdema of the larynx, 108; cases of malignant disease of vertebræ, with "paraplegia dolorosa," 359.
Edis. The prevention of mammary abscess, 286.
Editorials. Tuberculosis of bone, 17; physiological and therapeutical effects of cocaine, 19; a Boston polyclinic, 20; cerebral surgery, 41; contagious ophthalmia in the asylums and residential schools of the city of New York, 42; hospital nursing corps for the army, 42; laparotomy in penetrating stab and shot wounds of the abdomen, 65; the plea of insanity and expert testimony in the Goodwin case, 66; the codex commissioner's report on pepsin, 66, the appointment of surgeons in the Marine Hospital service, 91; the therapeutic inutility of calcic phosphates, 91; the Sloane Maternity Hospital, 91; a fatal error in diagnosis, 91; sewerage and the disposal of sewage in populous places, 113; frozen fruit, 114; raw meat and meat powders, 115; a proposed bureau of public health at Washington, 116; the police and the profession, 138; diseases common to animals and men, 138; adulteration of food and drugs in New York, 139; the report of the committee of the American Public Health Association on disinfection and disinfectants, 162; Venus befriends Æsculapius, 164; ptomaines and leucomaines, 185; early laparotomy in intestinal obstruction, 186; diabetes and perforating ulcer of the foot, 210; annual reports of the president and treasurer of Harvard College, 211; the medical examiner system, 212; arsenical wall-papers, 233; the causation of pleurisy, 235; the surgical treatment of perityphlitis, 257; cremation, a conservative view, 258; Dr. Austin Flint, 258; hereditary stature, 281; the signing of petitions, 282; sanitation in workshops and factories, 282; the relative capacity of the bronchus and lungs, 305; the proposed national bureau of public health, 306; poetry and toxicology, 307; the hydrophobia question, 329; the health of Boston for the year 1885, 330; the health of cabinet officers, 331; the health of Providence during the year 1885, 353; indirect fractures of the skull, 353; clairvoyant doctors and their prescriptions, 354; a patient's account of a case of insomnia, 377; the influence of sewerage and water-supply on the death-rates in cities, 379; insanity in Vermont, 379; arsenic in wall-paper, 401; hysteria and spiritism, 403; the infection of malarial fever, 450; the admission of women to the operating theatres of general hospitals, 452; the annual meeting of the American Medical Association, 452; a National Medical Congress, 424; training-schools for nursing the insane, 425; ether and chloroform once more, 426; the arrangements of museums of anatomy, 474; urethran, another new hypnotic, 475; a day's work at a metropolitan hospital, 476; vanilla poisoning, 476; medical heroism, 497; a State Board of Health again in Massachusetts, 499; the strikes from a medical point of view, 521; glass eating, 522; compound oxygen, 523; annual reports of the Massachusetts General and Boston City Hospitals, 547; the annual discourse before the Massachusetts Medical Society, 548; medicine of the future, 575; the movement cure in China, 576; the Boylston medal prize, 576; military drill and physical training in the public schools, 598; the death of Dr. Bernhard von Gudden, 600; first annual meeting of the Association of American Physicians, 600; the nature of asthma, 623; the New York Society for the Prevention of Contagious Diseases, 623; the therapeutic uses of cus, 623.

Education. A Boston polyclinic, 20; New York Post-Graduate Medical School and Hospital, 44; annual reports of the president and treasurer of Harvard College, 211; preliminary medical education, Clark, F. C., 298.

Ela, W. Etiology of irreducible and strangulated hernia, 176.

Electricity as a therapeutic agency in gynæcology, Becker, A. R., 22.

Electrodes, Knapp, P. C., 323.

Elliot, J. W. A case of salpingitis with severe symptoms: removal of tubes and ovaries: recovery, 344, 347.

Embryology. Report on histology and embryology, Minot, C. S., 460.

Empyæma. Two cases of empyæma, Rotch, T. M., 242, 252.

Engel, H. A mode of concealing the taste of quinine, 262.

Epidemics. The anticipatory treatment of local epidemics, Storer, H. R., 298.

Epilepsy. Cases of epilepsy treated with borax, Folsom, C. F., 145, 157.

Ernst, H. C. A consideration of the bacteria of surgical diseases, 443.

Ether and chloroform once more, 426.

Expert Testimony. The plea of insanity and expert testimony in the Goodwin case, 66.

Exstrophy of the bladder, Gay, G. W., 6.

Extra-Uterine Pregnancy. A case simultating and believed by all consultants to be abdominal pregnancy at full term, Coleman, J. S., 445; a case of extra-uterine pregnancy of seven years' duration, in which the bones of an adult fœtus were found during an attempt at ovariotomy, Homans, J., 457, 465.

Eye. Recent progress in ophthalmology, Wadsworth, O. F., 31; contagious ophthalmia in the asylums and residential schools of the city of New York, 42; ocular symptoms in renal disease, Williams, H. W., 157; a case of alcoholic paralysis preceded and accompanied by amblyopia ex abusu, with remarks thereon, Standish, M., 361.

Farlow, J. W. Abnormal artery of the pharynx, 437.

Feeding bottle for use in cases of intubation of the larynx, Waxham, F. E., 328.

Fifield, W. C. B. Caput succedaneum: cephalhæmatoma, 158.

Finny. A case of perforating ulcer of the stomach opening into the left ventricle of the heart and causing death by hæmorrhage, 285.

Fischer. Communication of tuberculosis through the food, 358.

Fisher, T. W. Two unusual cases of insanity, probably of syphilitic origin, 488.

Fitz, R. H. Localized amyloid degenerations: amyloid lymphoma, 389.

Flint, A., 259, 286.

Folsom, C. F. Cases of epilepsy treated with borax, 145, 157.

Food. The dietary of the poor, 44; frozen fruit, 114; raw meat and meat powders, 115; adulteration of food and drugs in New York, 139.

Formad, H. F. Tests for organic impurities in water, 515.

Fowler, G. R. The operative treatment of facial neuralgia, 382.

Freire's inoculation: yellow fever in Brazil, Lane, H. M., 534.

Fruit. Frozen fruit, 114.

Fuller, F. C. Case of median nerve suturing, 493.

Funis. Prolapse of the funis, Richardson, W. L., 254.

Galvano-cautery. Diphtheria treated by the galvano-cautery, 478.

Gannett, W. W. Parietal thrombus of the aorta, 158; enlarged prostate: difficult catheterization: question of cystotomy, 252; pathological specimens, 274; should nurses who are tuberculous be allowed the care of children? 385, 295.

Garland, G. M. Some cases of reflex neurosis, 25; 35.

Garrish, J. P. The physician and the pharmacist: their relative duties, 396.

Gay, G. W. Gun-shot wound of thigh, secondary hæmorrhage, ligature of femoral artery, gangrene, pyæmia, embolic pneumonia, death, 4; sarcoma of rib, removal, recurrence, second operation, 5; a case of extrophy of the bladder, plastic operation, surgical scarlet fever, 6.

General Diseases. Sarcoma of rib, Gay, G. W., 5; the etiology of rachitis, Haven, H. C., 27; cases of pericarditis treated with salicylate of sodium, Abbot, S. L., 49; cases of anæmia, Whittier, E. N., 57; typhoid fever in Somerville, Mass., Durrell, T. M., 60; a case of essential pernicious anæmia, 107; co-existence of scarlet fever and varicella in a child two and a half years old, Ayer, J. B., 108; on the limitation of the contagious stage of syphilis especially in its relations to marriage, Otis, F. N., 147; acute articular rheumatism, Ayer, J., 157; diabetes and perforating ulcer of the foot, 210; a case of co-existence of scarlet fever and measles, Brown, F. F., 224; rheumatism of early life, Chapin, H. D., 231; post-mortem in a case of measles, with some remarks upon the treatment of pulmonary œdema, Canedy, F. J., 250; paralysis of arm in congenital syphilis, Rotch, T. M., 242, 252; the etiology of rabies and the method of M. Pasteur for its prevention, Biggs, H. M., 298; the hydrophobia question, 329; the significance of small quantities of sugar in the urine, McBride, T. A., 348; the treatment of diabetes, Burrall, F. A., 349; the infection of malarial fevers, 450; the treatment of cancer of the uterus, Baker, W. H., 409, 416; rocky mountain fever, Curtin, R. G., 489; and epidemic of diphtheria traced to its source, Lee, B., 515; a study of diabetes mellitus, 570.

Generative System. Vaginal and vulvar enterocele, Thomas, T. G., 38; six successful cases of ovariotomy, Pinkham, J. G., 53; dilatation of phimosis, Harwood, C. W., 85; report of progress in gynæcology, Davenport, F. H., 105; conception after curetting of the uterus, 118; rectal disease of uterine origin, Strong, C. P., 151, 157; polypus resembling inverted uterus, Minot, F., 202; a case of retraction of the penis, Ivanoff, A. A., 162; imperforate hymen, with retention of the menstrual flux, Baker, W. H., 290, 295; vermiform-appendicitis and general peritonitis, complicating the puerperal period, Dearborn, J. G., 295; vaginal fibroid tumor, Storer, H. R., 297; epithelioma of the cervix in a case of prolapsus uteri: operation for the removal of the growth, with opening of Douglass's cul-de-sac, and completion of the operation by removal of the whole womb, Goodell, W., 313; laparotomy for pelvic abscess, Jackson, A. R., 323; a case of salpingitis, with severe symptoms, Elliot, J. W., 344, 347; the operation of shortening the round ligaments, with two cases, Harrington, F. B., 390; is disease of the uterine appendages as frequent as it has been represented? Coe, H. C., 398; lipoma testis or a large accumulation of fat in the tunica vaginalis, Park, R., 447; the treatment of cancer of the uterus, 409, 416; acute inversion of the uterus, Weeks, A. P., 418; subcutaneous division of urethral stricture, Mastin, C. H., 465; seven cases of congenital and one of traumatic stenosis or atresia of the female genital canal, Chadwick, J. R., 505, 514; the treatment of lacerations of the cervix uteri, Beckwith, 570.

Gihon, A. L. Economic sanitation, 516.

Gilbert. Pneumonia, 571.

Glands. Enlarged cervical glands, Vickery, H. F. 219, 229.

Glass Eating, 522.

Glottis. Sudden death from œdema of the glottis, Jones, W. J., 117.

"God save the Alumni Association of Cooper Medical College," 165.

Goodale, W. Epithelioma of the cervix in a case of prolapsus uteri: operation for the removal of the growth, with opening of Douglass's cut-de-sac, and completion of the operation by removal of the whole womb, 313.

Goodwin case. The plea of insanity and expert testimony in the Goodwin case, 66.

Gouley, J. W. S. Sacculation and perforation of the bladder in consequence of chronic retention of urine, 397.

Graham, W. Unpleasant effects following antipyrine, 261.

Grauer, F. Epithelioma of the œsophagus, 111; primary tuberculosis of the kidney, 111.

Green, C. M. Report on obstetrics, 173.

Green, John O. The action of the Middlesex North District Medical Society on the death of Dr. John O. Green, 118.

Green, J. Orne. Some of the less common forms of mastoid disease, 341, 348.

Grinders Consumption. Specimens from lung of a case of "nailers" or "grinders consumption," Wells, F., 396.

Gruening, E. Reflex symptoms in nasal affections, 135.

Gunn, M. Address before the American Surgical Association, 420.

Gun-shot Wounds. Gun-shot wounds of thigh, Gay, G. W., 4; the indications for laparotomy in penetrating stab and gun-shot wound of the abdomen, Bryant, J. D., 12; laparotomy in penetrating stab and gun-shot wounds of the abodmen, 65.

Gynæcology. Report of progress in gynæcology, Davenport, F. H., 105; gynæcological hints and hobbies, Brown, W. S., 588, 592.

Hæmorrhage. Severe hæmorrhage from anti-partum separation of the placenta, with the infusion of sixty-six ounces of salt solution, Harrington, F. B., 197, 296.

Hallucinations. Unilateral hallucinations, Hammond, W. A. 14.

Hamilton, A. McL. Weighted shoes in locomotor ataxia, 60; the experiences of a sleepless clergyman, 478, 526.

Hammond, G. M. A new thermo-cautery, 492.

Hammond, W. A. Unilateral hallucinations, 14.

Hanson, H. H. A case of tracheotomy in a neonatus, 105.

Hare, H. A. Does the sulphate of quinine, when given in moderate doses, increase the number of the red corpuscles? 372.

Harrington, F. B. The pulmonary complications of typhoid fever, 28, 37; severe hæmorrhage from ante-partum separation of the placenta with the infusion of sixty-six ounces of salt solution, 197, 296; the operation of shortening the round ligaments, with two cases, 390; results of the intra-venous injection of salt solutions, 481, 488; intra-venous injection of salt solution, 594.

Hartshorne, H. Continuous preventive disinfection of house drainage, 517.

Harvard College. Annual reports of the president and treasurer of Harvard College, 211.

Harwood, C. W. Dilatation of phimosis, 85.

Haven, A. C. The ætiology of disease, 467.

Haven, H. C. The ætiology of rachitis, 27.

Hawley, Mrs. A second Florence Nightingale, 261.

Headache. Recurrent headache in children and its treatment, Sturgis, R., 128.

Health Resorts. Some observations on health resorts, Otis, E. O., 221, 227.

Heffenger, A. C. The pavilion in hospital construction, 73, 100.

Hendricks, W. E. The treatment of malarial fevers with tincture of iodine, 333.

Henry, A. Suicide in China, 45.

Hermaphroditism. A suspension of diagnosis in cases of pseudo-hermaphroditism, 358.

Hernia. Vaginal and vulvar enterocele, Thomas, T. G., 38; irreducible and strangulated hernia: anatomy, Wyman, S. E., 176; Smith, W. E., pathology, 176; etiology, Ela, W., 177; differential diagnosis, Nichols, J. T. G., 177; treatment, Driver, S. W., 178; medical selection of lives for life insurance, Crozier, T., 177; operation for the radical cure of hernia, Bradford, E. H., 169, 376; cases of tumor in hernia region, Post, A., 486.

Heroism. Medical heroism, 497.

Herzen, A. Different physiological senses for heat and cold, 214.

Hitchcock, U. G. Gummatous infiltration of the base of the tongue, 572.

Hicks, J. B. On a condition of the inner surface of the uterus, after the birth of the fœtus, of practical importance, 94.

Hills, W. B. Report on medical chemistry, 272.

Histology and Embryology. Report on histology and embryology, Minot, C. S., 460.

Hodges, R. M. Undercurrents of modern medicine, 529, 553.

Hogyes. Two cases of nephritis varicellosa, 291.

Holden, E. A case of gummatous disease of the larynx with spontaneous reopening of the larynx after thyroid laryugotomy, 572.

Holmes, Dr., in England, 626.

Homans, J. A successful case of laparotomy for perityphlitic abscess, 388: a case of extra-uterine pregnancy of seven years' duration, in which the bones of an adult fœtus were found during an attempt at ovariotomy, 457, 465; extreme meteorism relieved by electricity, 464.

Homicide and mutilation, 626.

Homœopathy as viewed by a member of the Massachusetts Medical Society, Bowditch, V. Y., 584, 605.
Hooper, F. H. Adenoid vegetations in the gastro-pharyngeal cavity, 193, 202; concerning the positions of paralyzed vocal bands, 541; recent progress in laryngology and rhinology, 608.
Hospital Construction. The pavilion in hospital construction, Heffenger, A. C., 73, 100.
Huse, R. C. Old remedies, 488.
Huston, F. N. The effect of certain physiological principles that have been noticed in aid of the circulation of the blood, 467.
Hydrophobia. The etiology of rabies and the method of M. Pasteur for its prevention, Biggs, H. M., 298; the hydrophobia question, 329; Pasteur and hydrophobia, 500, 524.
Hygiene, Health and Boards of Health. The cause and cure of contagious diseases, Durgin, S. H., 75, 86; Governor Robinson's recommendations to the Massachusetts Legislature on public health, 45; a proposed bureau of public health at Washington, 116; city and suburban rapid transit from a sanitary point of view, 142; the report of the committee of the American Public Health Association on disinfection and disinfectants, 162; some observations on health resorts, Otis, E. O., 221, 227; recent legislation in Massachusetts on subjects of public health, 237; recent progress in public hygiene, Abbott, S. W., 247; sanitation in workshops and factories, 282; the anticipatory treatment of local epidemics, Storer, H. R., 298; the proposed national bureau of public health, 306; bill to prevent the introduction of contagious and infectious diseases into the United States, 309, the health of Boston for the year 1885, 330; the health of cabinet officers, 331; the hygiene of the newly born, 333; the health of Providence during the year 1885, 353; the influence of sewerage and water-supply on the death-rates in cities, 379; a State Board of Health again in Massachusetts, 497; tests for organic impurities in water, Formad, H. F., 515; importation of foreign rags into American ports, Wilson, F. S., 516; economic sanitation, Gihon, A. L., 516; the obligation of the State and citizens to preserve the health of the people, Brooks, E., 517; continuous preventive disinfection of house drainage, Hartshorne, H., 517; hygiene of old age, Wood, H. C., 518.
Hymen. Imperforate hymen, with retention of the menstrual flux, Baker, W. H., 290, 295.
Hypnone, Beaumetz, D., 97.
Hysteria and spiritism, 403.
Idiot. Education and care of the idiot, Smith, A. G., 364, 373.
Imposter, 577.
Insanity. The plea of insanity and expert testimony in the Goodwin case, 66; recent progress in mental disease, 80; an international committee on a uniform classification of mental diseases, 215; a report of three cases of melancholia, being especially a consideration of the prognosis, Turnbull, F. M., 230; recent progress in the care of the insane, Channing, W., 291, 318; insanity in Vermont, 379; training schools for nursing the insane, 425; two unusual cases of insanity probably of syphilitic origin, Fisher, T. W., 488; the influence of overwork in the production of nervous diseases and insanity, Mills, C. K., 539.
Insomnia. A patient's account of a case of insomnia, 377.
Instruments. Axis-traction appliance for forceps, Kingman, R. A., 593.
Instruments and Apparatus. A new cephalotome, Reynolds, E., 296; normal electrodes, Knapp, P. C., 323; a new thermo-cautery, Hammond, G. M., 492.
International Congress of Hydrology and Climatology, 263.
Ivanoff, A. A. A case of retraction of the penis, 262.
Jackson, A. R. Laparotomy for pelvic abscess, 323.
Jackson, H. Letter from Vienna, 142.
Jarvis, W. C. A novel procedure for the removal of subglottic laryngeal growths, 571.
Jeffries, B. J. Physical examination of candidates for the United States Naval and Military Academies, 407.
Johnson, C. Diagnostial laparotomy, 421.
Johnson, H. L. Relation of the spleen to the stomach, 238.
Johnson, S. A case of naso-pharyngeal growth, 573.
Jones, W. J. Sudden death from œdema of the glottis, 117.
Jumpers, The, Thornton, J. D., 190.
Jurisprudence. The plea of insanity and expert testimony in the Goodwin case, 66; recent progress in legal medicine, Draper, F. W., 129.
Keating, J. M. Artificial feeding of infants, 539.
Keen, W. W. Stretching of the facial nerve, 448.
Kelly, J. E. Causality in disease applied to the phenomenon of vomiting in pregnancy, 337, 345.
Kingman, R. A. Axis-traction appliance for forceps, 593.
Knapp, P. C. Normal electrodes, 323.
Knight, F. I. Laryngeal vertigo, 543.
Kober, G. M. Compendium of the Surgical History of the War of the Rebellion, 239.
Lane, E. B. Two cases of cerebral tumor with autopsy, 217, 229.
Lane, H. M. Yellow fever in Brazil: Friere's inoculation, 534.
Laparotomy. The indications for laparotomy in penetrating stab and shot wounds of the abdomen, Bryant, J. D., 12; laparotomy in penetrating stab and shot wounds of the abdomen, 65: early laparotomy in intestinal obstruction, 186; laparotomy in the treatment of penetrating and visceral injuries of the abdomen, Dennis, F. S., 207; laparotomy for pelvic abscess, Jackson, A. R., 323; a successful case of laparotomy for perityphlitic abscess, Homans, J., 388; diagnostitial laparotomy, Johnson, C., 421.
Larynx. Laryngeal spasm in adults, with the report of two cases, one of gouty, the other of undetermined origin, Shattuck, F. C., 1, 9; rapid œdema of the larynx, Edes, R. T., 108; interesting points connected with the larynx, Leidy, J., 540; laryngeal vertigo, Knight, F. I., 543.
Lateral Curvature. The ætiology of lateral curvature, Bradford, E. H., 241, 251.
Lee, B. An epidemic of diphtheria traced to its source, 515.
Legal Medicine. Recent progress in legal medicine, Draper, F. W., 129.
Leidy, J. Interesting points connected with the larynx, 540.
Liberty of discussion in medical meetings, 358.
London. The laying of the foundation-stone of the new examination hall in London, 382.
Loomis, A. L. The effect of high altitudes in cardiac disease, 471.
Louis, I. Letter from Vienna, 238.
Lovejoy, O. S. Four cases of placenta prævia, 84.
Lyman, G. H. Poisoning by nutmeg, 61.
Lymphangioma. A case of congenital cavernous lymphangioma of the back, Porter, C. B., 169.
Mackenzie, J. N. A contribution to the pathology of the respiratory vaso-motor neuroses, 572.
McBride, T. A. The significance of small quantities of sugar in the urine, 348.
McLaughlin, J. W. Researches in the ætiology of dengue, 468.
McNamara, L. J. A study of the etiology of tumors, 109.
Malarial Fevers. The treatment of malarial fevers with tincture of iodine, Hendricks, W. E., 333; the infection of malarial fever, 450.
Mammary Abscess. The prevention of mammary abscess, Edis, 286.
Marcy, H. O. Bacteria, 321.
Marie, P. and Leite, S. Hysterical paralysis without contracture, 45.
Marine Hospital Service. The appointment of surgeons in the Marine Hospital Service, 90.
Martin, S. C. Humanized virus, 22, 94, 167.
Marine Park, South Boston, as a breathing-place, Bancroft, W. B., 478.
Mason, A. P. A case of fracture of the skull followed by abscess, 293.
Massachusetts. Recent legislation in Massachusetts on subjects of public health, 237.
Mastin, C. H. Subcutaneous division of urethral stricture, 465.
Mastoid Disease. Some of the less common forms of mastoid disease, Green, J. Orne, 341, 348.
Materia Medica and Therapeutics. Physiological and therapeutic effects of cocaine, 19; electricity as a therapeutic agency in gynæcology, Becker, A. R., 22; cases of pericarditis treated with salicylate of sodium, Abbot, S. L., 49, 60; the codex commission's report on pepsin, 66; the therapeutic inutility of calcic phosphates, 91; lecture on hypnone, Beaumetz, D., 97; a new source of quinine, 141; a mode of concealing the taste of quinine, Engel, H., 262; the treatment of malarial fevers with tincture of iodine, Hendricks, W. E., 333; does the sulphate of quinine, when given in moderate doses, increase the number of red blood corpuscles? Hare, H. A., 372; chorea treated with urethran, Abbot, S. L., 419; ether and chloroform once more, 426; use of so-called antipyretic doses of quinine, Schultz, O. S., 468; urethan: another new hypnotic, 475 old remedies, Huse, R. C., 488; how the therapeutical value of our mineral waters may be increased, Rice, C. C., 489; physic tippling and medicine bibbing, Woodbury, F., 517; observations on the use of some of the newer remedies in diseases of the upper air passages, Shurley, E. L., 545; the simplest and most efficient treatment of diphtheria, Daly, W. H., 545.
Maternity Hospital. The Sloane Maternity Hospital, 91.
Measles. A case of co-existence of scarlet fever and measles, Brown, F. F., 224; post-mortem in a case of measles, with some remarks upon the treatment of pulmonary œdema, Canedy, F. J., 250; the co-existence of measles and scarlet fever, Dunn, B. F., 287.
Meat. Raw meat and meat powders, 115.
Mediastinal Tumor, Whittier, E. N., 289.
Medical Examiners. Report of the committee of the Medical Improvement Society on medical examiners in Massachusetts, 203; the medical examiner system, 212; the Improvement Society's report on the Massachusetts medical examiner system, Stevens, G. B., 238.
Meningitis. A series of cases of tubercular meningitis, Musser, J. H., 356.
Mental Diseases. An international committee on a uniform classification of mental diseases, 215.
Meteorism. Extreme meteorism relieved by electricity, Homans, J., 464.
Micro-organisms. Action of sunlight on micro-organisms, Downes, 166.
Microscope. The microscope in its relation to disease, Wright, 570.
Military Drill as a means of physical training for boys, 433, 438.
Mills, C. K. The influence of over-work in the production of nervous diseases and insanity, 539.
Mind. Recent progress in the care of the insane, Channing, W., 291; education and care of the idiot, Smith, A. G., 364, 373; training school for nursing the insane, 425.
Mineral Waters. How the therapeutical value of our mineral waters may be increased, Rice, C. C., 489.
Minot, C. S. Report on histology and embryology, 460.
Minot, F. Chronic disease of the kidneys and bladder, 108; polypus resembling inverted uterus, 202; post-partum glycosuria, 254.
Mirror-writing, another pathological chirography of nervous origin, Peckham, G., 183.
Mitchell, S. W. Tendon-jerk and muscle-jerk in disease, 596.
Morgan, E. C. The question of hæmorrhage after uvulotomy, with the description of an instrument for its arrest, 546.
Morse, H. L. Recent progress in otology, 154.
Mortality of the medical profession, 334.
Museums. The arrangement of museums of anatomy, 474.
Musser, J. H. A series of cases of tubercular meningitis, 356; suggestions regarding the prevention of phthisis in mill-hands, 492.
Myxœdema, Putnam, J. J., 10.
Nailers Consumption. Specimens from lung of a case of "nailers" or "grinders consumption." Wells, F., 396.
Nephrectomy on a patient twenty-three months old, Park, R., 448.
Nephritis. Two cases of nephritis varicellosa, Högyes, 261.
Nervous System. A case of concussion followed by paralyses, pointing to hæmorrhage into the fissure of Rolando, Walton, G. L., 2, 11; unilateral hallucinations, Hammond, W. A., 14; some cases of reflex neurosis, Garland, G. M., 25, 35; cerebral surgery, 41; weighted shoes in locomotor ataxia, Hamilton, A. McL., 60; cases of functional and organic injury to the central nervous system caused by trauma, Walton, G. L., 102, 109; hysterical paralysis without contracture, Marie, P. and Leite, S., 45; recurrent headache in children and its treatment, Sturgis, R., 128; reflex symptoms in nasal affections, Gruening, E., 135; cases of epilepsy treated with borax, Folsom, C. F., 145; operation for the cure of spina bifida, Bradford, E. H., 169, 176; a case of pistol-shot wound of the head resulting in abscess of the brain, with a report of the autopsy, Whitman, R., 170, 175; the intra-cerebral tracts, their physiology and its bearing on the diagnosis of lesions of the centrum semiovale, Starr, M. A., 180; a case of softening of the corpora striata, with specimen, Shaw, J. C., 182; mirror-writing and other pathological chirography of nervous origin, Peckham, G., 183; tubercular meningitis cured by iodoform, Nilsson, E., 190; nerve suturing, Beverly, M., 190; the jumpers, Thornton, J. D., 190; two cases of cerebral tumor, with autopsy, Lane, E. B., 217; paralysis of arms in congenital syphilis, Rotch, T. M., 242, 252; a case of fracture of the skull, followed by abscess, Mason, A. P., 293, a case of fractured skull, with autopsy, Bidwell, W. B., 294; total trigeminal paralysis with alternate hemiplegia: the nerve of taste, Dana, C. L., 302; vaso-motor neuroses, Starr, M. A., 303; neuropathic œdema, 334; a series of cases of tubercular meningitis, Musser, J. H., 356; a case of alcoholic paralysis preceded and accompanied by amblyopia ex abusu, with remarks thereon, Standish, M., 361; brain of a porpoise, Spitzka, 375; a case of neuro-gliomatous hypertrophy of the pons oblongata, Spitzka, 375; a patient's account of a case of insomnia, 377; the operative treatment of facial neuralgia, Fowler, G. R., 382; eclampsia due to fright or to the shock of an injury, Ayer, J. B., 395; case of meningeal extravasation, with remarks on the localization of the superficial lesions, Carroll, A. L., 396; stretching of the facial nerve, Keen, W. W., 448; chorea excited by sudden return of hearing: chorea treated with urethran, Abbot, S. L., 419; sarcoma of brain, Putnam, J. J., 420; essential vertigo, Bremen, L., 467; the diagnostic value of the knee phenomenon or the patellar-tendon reflex in diseases of the nervous system, Zener, P., 468; a statistical inquiry regarding the relation of high altitudes to nervous diseases, Dana, C. L., 492; a case of median nerve suture, Fuller, F. C., 493; preliminary report of a case (with autopsy) of tubercular disease of the spinal cord, Sachs, B., 493; alleged organic disease of the brain following moderate concussion, Nichols, A. H., 509; the influence of overwork in the production of nervous diseases and insanity, Mills, C. K., 535; the functions of the recurrent laryngeal nerve, Donaldson, F., 542; laryngeal vertigo, Knight, F. I., 543; cases of malignant disease of vertebræ, with "paraplegia dolorosa," Edes, R. T., 559; a contribution to the pathology of the respiratory vaso-motor neuroses, Mackenzie, J. N., 572; a case of delirium tremens caused by chewing tea, Slayter, W. B., 578; tendon-jerk and muscle-jerk in disease, Mitchell, S. W., 596.

Neuralgia. The operative treatment of facial neuralgia, Fowler, G. R., 382.

Neuropathic Œdema, 334.

New York Post-Graduate Medical School and Hospital, 44.

Nichols, A. H. Alleged organic disease of the brain following moderate concussion, 509.

Nichols, J. T. G. Differential diagnosis of irreducible and strangulated hernia, 177.

Nightingale. A second Florence Nightingale, 261.

Nilsson, E. Tubercular meningitis cured by iodoform, 190.

Noorden, C. von. Albuminuria in health, 550.

North Carolina epidemic, Wing, C. E., 279.

Nursing. Should nurses who are tuberculous be allowed the care of children? Gannett, W. W., 385, 395; training schools for nursing the insane, 425; hospital nursing corps for the army, 42.

Nutmeg. Poisoning by nutmeg, Lyman, G. H., 61.

Obstetrical Society of Boston, twenty-fifth anniversary, 61.

Obstetrics. Report on obstetrics, Green, C. M., 173.

Œdema. Neuropathic œdema, 334.

Ogle, W. Suicides in England and Wales in relation to age, sex, season and occupation, 357.

Old Remedies, Huse, R. C., 488.

Oleomargarine. The composition and manufacture of oleomargarine, 334.

Ophthalmia. Contagious ophthalmia in the asylums and residential schools of the city of New York, 42.

Orthopraxy. The ætiology of lateral curvature, Bradford, E. H., 241, 251; recent progress in orthopedic surgery, Bradford, E. H. and Burrell, H. L., 413.

Otis, E. O. Some observations on health resorts, 221, 227.

Otis, F. N. On the limitation of the contagious stage of syphilis especially in its relations to marriage, 147.

Ott, D. O. Intravenous injection of saline solution, 262.

Ovariotomy. Six successful cases of ovariotomy, Pinkham, J. G., 53.

Oxygen. "Compound oxygen," 523.

Pancreas. The surgery of the pancreas as based upon experiments and clinical researches, Senn, N., 441.

Paris. Paris letter: Pasteur and hydrophobia, 500, 524.

Park, R. Lipoma testis, or a large accumulation of fat in the tunica vaginalis, 347; nephrectomy on a patient twenty-three months old, 448.

Pasteur. The etiology of rabies and the method of M. Pasteur for its prevention, Biggs, H. M., 298; the hydrophobia question, 329; Pasteur and hydrophobia, 500, 524.

Pathology and pathological anatomy. Recent progress in pathology and pathological anatomy, Whitney, W. F., 483.

Pau. Letter from Pau, 405, 428.

Peckham, G. Mirror-writing and other pathological chirography of nervous origin, 183.

Pelvic Abscess. Laparotomy for pelvic abscess, Jackson, A. R., 323.

Penny, E. J. Sudden death from hæmorrhage into the abdominal cavity during menstruation, 357.

Pepper, W. The causes and distribution of consumption in Pennsylvania, 470.

Pepsin. The codex commission's report on pepsin, 66.

Perforating Ulcer. Diabetes and perforating ulcer of the foot, 210.

Pericarditis. Cases of pericarditis treated with salicylate of sodium, Abbot, S. L., 49, 60.

Perityphlitis. The surgical treatment of perityphlitis, 257.

Perityphlitic Abscess. A successful case of laparotomy for perityphlitic abscess, Homans, J., 388.

Petitions. The signing of petitions, 282.

Pharmacist. The physician and the pharmacist: their relative duties, Garrish, J. P., 396.

Pharmacy. Pharmaceutical notes, Davenport, B. F., 76.

Pharynx. Abnormal artery of the pharynx, Farlow, J. W., 437.

Phimosis. Dilatation of phimosis, Harwood, C. W., 85.

Phosphates. The therapeutic inutility of calcic phosphates, 91.

Phthisis. The causes and distribution of consumption in Pennsylvania, Pepper, W., 470.

Physicians and pathologists, association of, 214.

Physiology. Different physiological senses for heat and cold, Herzen, A., 214; relation of the spleen to the stomach, Johnson, H. L., 238; hereditary stature, 281; does the sulphate of quinine, when given in moderate doses, increase the number of red blood corpuscles? Hare, H. A., 372; the nerve of taste, Dana, C. L., 302; the effect of certain physiological principles that have been noticed in aid of the circulation of the blood, Huston, F. N., 467.

Placenta Prævia. Four cases of placenta prævia, Lovejoy, O. S., 84.

Platt, I. H. The physics and physiological action of pneumatic differentiation, 473.

Pleurisy. The causation of pleurisy, 235.

Pilo-nidal sinus, Porter, C. B., 9.

Pinkham, J G. Six successful cases of ovariotomy, 53.

Pneumatic Cabinet. A preliminary account in regard to the circulatory and respiratory changes observed in animals placed in the pneumatic cabinet, Donaldson, P., 472; a clinical report of cases treated by pneumatic differentiation, Williams, H. F., 473; ten month's experience with pneumatic differentiation, Bowditch, V. Y., 473; the physics and physiological action of pneumatic differentiation, Platt, I. H., 473.

Pneumonia and its treatment, Stockman, C. W., 265; an analysis of 412 cases of lobar pneumonia, occurring at the Massachusetts General Hospital between January 1, 1870 and December, 31, 1885, Townsend, C. W., 274; causation of pneumonia, Baker, H. B., 490; pneumonia, Gilbert, 577.

Poetry and Toxicology, 307.

Poisons. Poisoning by three drachms of tincture of belladonna, Ayer, J. B., 10; poisoning by nutmeg, Lyman, G. H., 61; poetry and toxicology, 307; chronic tea-poisoning, Bullard, W. N., 314, 321; chronic tea-poisoning, Dana, C. L., 406; vanilla poisoning, 476; a case of delirium tremens caused by chewing tea, Slayter, W. B., 578.

Police and the profession, 138.

Polk, W. M. Exploratory incisions of the abdomen, 47.

Polyclinic A Boston polyclinic, 20.

Polypus resembling inverted uterus, Minot, F., 202.

Porcher, F. P. Typhoid fever, 596.

Porpoise. Brain of a porpoise, Spitzka, 375.

Porter, C. B. Urethral calculus, 8; caries of tarsus, amputation, 8; excision of knee, 9; pilo-nidal sinus, 9; an uncommonly large fatty tumor, 61; a case of congenital cavernous lymphangioma of the back, 169.

Porter, F. E. Clinical memorandum, 612.

Pousson, A. Two rare varieties of rupture of the bladder, 577.

Post, A. Cases of tumor in hernia region, 486.

Post-Graduate Medical School and Hospital, New York, 44.

Power, W. H. Scarlet fever from the cow, 601.

Precocity. A case of extraordinary sexual precocity, 356.

Pregnancy, affections connected with. Prolonged gestation with anencephalous fœtus, 70; labor during hypnosis, 70; four cases of placenta prævia, Lovejoy, O. S., 84; on a condition of the inner surface of the uterus after the birth of the fœtus, of practical importance, 94; the advisability of inducing abortion in cases of so-called uncontrollable vomiting of pregnancy, Doe, O. W., 121, 132; caput succedaneum: cephalhæmatoma, Fifield, W. C. B., 258; report on obstetrics, Green, C. M., 174; a case of protracted pregnancy, Thompson, A., 190; severe hæmorrhage from ante-partum separation of the placenta, with the infusion of sixty-six ounces of salt solution, Harrington, F. B., 197; prolapse of the funis, Richardson, W. L., 254; vermiform-appendicitis and general peritonitis complicating the puerperal period, Dearborn, J. G., 295; causality in disease applied to the phenomenon of vomiting in pregnancy, Kelly, J. E., 337, 345; extrusion of fœtal membranes at the seventh month, with subsequent retraction, Chatard, F. E., Jr., 357; a case of diabetes in a child-bearing patient, Warner, E., 436; a case simulating and believed by all consultants to be abdominal pregnancy at full term, Coleman, J. S., 445; a case of extra-uterine pregnancy, Homans, J., 457, 465; a case of concealed accidental hæmorrhage, Boardman, W. E., 463, 464; tedious labor with remarks on its conduct, Boardman, W. E., 464; results of the intravenous injection of salt solutions, Harrington, F. B., 481, 488.

Prewitt, T. F. Traumatic aneurism of the internal carotid artery, 446.

Prince, D. A sterilized atmosphere, 444.

Pritzl, E. Labor during hypnosis, 70.

Prizes. Astley Cooper prize, 312; the Boylston medical prize, 576; Fiske fund prize, 594.

Providence. The health of Providence during the year 1885, 353.

Ptomaines and leucomaines, 185.

Purser. A case of ulcerative endocarditis, 141.

Putnam, J. J. Myxœdema, 10; sarcoma of brain, 420.

Quinine. A new source of quinine, 141; does the sulphate of quinine, when given in moderate doses, increase the number of the red blood corpuscles, Hare, H. A., 372; a mode of concealing the taste of quinine, Engel, H., 262; use of so-called antipyretic doses of quinine, Schultz, O. F., 468.

Rabies. The etiology of rabies and the method of M. Pasteur for its prevention, Biggs, H. M., 298; the hydrophobia question, 329.

Radius. Subluxation of the radial head in children, Cushing, H. W., 77, 85.

Rags. Importation of foreign rags into American ports, Wilson, F. S., 516.

Rapid transit from a sanitary point of view, 142.

Recent Progress. Eye, Wadsworth, O. F., 31; mental diseases, Stedman, H. R., 80; legal medicine, Draper, F. W., 120; Ear, Morse, H. L., 154; obstetrics, Green, C. M., 173; thoracic diseases, Shattuck, F. C., 199; anatomy, Dwight, F., 224; public hygiene, Abbott, S. W., 247; chemistry, Hills, W. B., 272; care of the insane, Channing, W., 291, 318; diseases of children, Rotch, T. M., 392; orthopedic surgery, Bradford, E. H. and Burrell, H. L., 413; histology and embryology, Minot, C. S., 460; pathology and pathological anatomy, Whitney, W. F., 483; dentistry, Rollins, W. H., 511, 536; recent progress in laryngology and rhinology, Hooper, F. H., 608.

Reflex Neurosis. Some cases of reflex neurosis, Garland, G. M., 25, 35.

Reflex symptoms in nasal affections, Gruening, E., 135.

Respiratory System. Laryngeal spasm in adults, with report of two cases, one of gouty, the other of undetermined origin, Shattuck, F. C., 1, 9; the pulmonary complications of typhoid fever, Harrington, F. B., 28, 37; rapid œdema of the larynx, Edes, R. T., 108; sudden death from œdema of the glottis, Jones, W. J., 117; reflex symptoms in nasal affections, Gruening, E., 135; adenoid vegetations in the naso-pharyngeal cavity, Hooper, F. H., 193, 202; report on recent progress in thoracic disease, Shattuck, F. C., 199; causation of pleurisy, 235; post-mortem in a case of measles, with some remarks upon the treatment of pulmonary œdema, Canedy, F. J., 241; pulmonary œdema rapidly appearing after thoracentesis, Bowditch, H. I., 251; two cases of empyæma, Rotch, T. M., 242, 252; double pleuritic effusion at thirteen years, Rotch, T. M., 242, 252; pneumonia and its treatment, Stockman, C. W., 265; the staining of the bacillus of tubercle, Cushing, E. W., 268; an analysis of 412 cases of pneumonia, occurring at the Massachusetts General Hospital between January 1, 1870, and December 31, 1885, Townsend, C. W., 274; the relative capacity of the bronchus and lungs, 305; feeding bottle for use in cases of intubation of the larynx, Waxham, F. E., 328; the mechanical treatment of pleuritic effusion, Cimbali, 381; pulmonary calculus, Shattuck, F. C., 395; specimens from lung of a case of "nailers" or "grinders consumption," Wells, F., 396; the causes and distribution of consumption in Pennsylvania, Pepper, W., 470; a preliminary account in regard to the circulatory and respiratory changes observed in animals placed in the pneumatic cabinet, Donaldson, F., 472; causation of pneumonia, Baker, H. B., 490; suggestions regarding the prevention of phthisis in mill-hands, Musser, J. H., 492; two cases of adenoid disease of the roof of the pharynx which exhibited unusual features, Allen, H., 519; lupus of the throat, Cohen, J. S., 520; interesting points connected with the larynx, Leidy, J., 540; concerning the positions of paralyzed vocal bands, Hooper, F. H., 541; functions of the recurrent laryngeal nerve, Donaldson, F., 542; observations on the use of some of the newer remedies in diseases of the upper air passages, Shurley, E. L., 545; the simplest and most efficient treatment of diphtheria, Daly, W. H., 545; the question of hæmorrhage after uvulotomy, with the description of an instrument for its arrest, Morgan, E. C., 546; pneumonia, Gilbert, 571; a novel procedure for the removal of subglottic laryngeal growths, Jarvis, W. C., 571; cases of laryngeal œdema, DeBlois, T. A., 571; a case of gummatous disease of the larynx with spontaneous reopening of the larynx after thyroid laryngotomy, Holden, E., 572; gummatous infiltration of the base of the tongue, Hitchcock, U. G., 572; a contribution to the pathology of the respiratory vaso-motor neuroses, Mackenzie, J. N., 572; a case of naso-pharyngeal growth, Johnston, S., 573; what cases of nasal catarrh require surgical treatment, Rice, C. C., 574; recent progress in laryngology and rhinology, Hooper, F. H., 608; the nature of asthma, 623.

Reynolds, E. A new cephalatome, 296.

Reynolds, J. P. Should infants be nursed at night? 254.

Rheumatism. Acute articular rheumatism, Ayer, J., 157; rheumatism of early life, Chapin, H. D., 231.

Rice, C. C. How the therapeutical value of our mineral waters may be increased, 489; what cases of nasal catarrh require surgical treatment, 574.

Richardson, W. L. Prolapse of the funis, 254.

Rickets. The etiology of rachitis, Haven, H. C., 27.

Robin, A. The influence of fluids (Boissons) on nutrition and in the treatment of obesity, 602.

Robinson, Gov. Recommendation to the Massachusetts Legislature on public health, 45.

Rocky-Mountain Fever, Curtin, R. G., 489.

Rollins, W. H. Copper amalgam, 175; recent progress in dentistry, 511, 537.

Rosse, I. C. The Chaclacayo trephined skull, 412.

Rotch, T. M. Six cases occurring in practice, 242, 252; report on diseases of children, 392.

Roth. An old anatomical preparation, 118.

Royal Operation, 358.

Sachs. Preliminary report on a case (with autopsy) of tubercular disease of the spinal cord, 493.

Salem Hospital, 70.

Salpingitis. A case of salpingitis, with severe symptoms, Elliot, J. W., 344, 347.

Salt Solution Severe hæmorrhage from ante-partum separation of the placenta, with the infusion of sixty-six ounces of salt solution, Harrington, F. B., 197, 206; intravenous injection of saline solution, Ott, D. O., 262; results of the intra-venous injection of salt solutions, Harrington, F. B., 481, 488.

Sarcoma of rib, Gay, G. W., 5.

Scarlet Fever. Co-existence of scarlet fever and varicella in a child two and a half years old, Ayer, J. B., 108; a case of co-existence of scarlet fever and measles, Brown, F. F., 224; case of scarlet fever (second attack) preceded and followed by a scarlet rash, Ayer, J. B., 252; the co-existence of measles and scarlet fever, Dunn, B. F., 287; scarlet fever from the cow, Power, W. H., 601.

Shultz, O. F. Use of so-called antipyretic doses of quinine in pneumonia, 468.

Senn, N. The surgery of the pancreas, as based upon experiments and clinical researches, 444.

Sewerage. Sewerage and the disposal of sewerage in populous places, 113; the influence of sewerage and water-supply on the death-rates in cities, 379.

Sexton, S. Aural clinic of New York Eye and Ear Infirmary, acute non-suppurative catarrhal inflammation of the middle ear, 370.

Shaw, J. C. A case of softening of the corpora striata, with specimen, 182.

Spleen. Relation of the spleen to the stomach, Johnson, H. L., 239.

Shattuck, F. C. Laryngeal spasm in adults, with the report of two cases, one of gouty, the other of undetermined origin, 1, 9; a case of essential pernicious anæmia, 107; report on recent progress in thoracic disease, 199; pulmonary calculus, 395.

Shattuck, G. B. Acute miliary tuberculosis, 156.

Shoes. Weighted shoes in locomotor ataxia, Hamilton, A. McL., 60.

Shurley, E. L. Observations on the use of some of the newer remedies in diseases of the upper air passages, 545.

Skull. A case of fracture of the skull followed by abscess, Mason, A. P., 293; a case of fractured skull with autopsy, Bidwell, W. B., 294; indirect fracture of the skull, 353.

Slayter, W. B. A case of delirium tremens caused by chewing tea, 578.

Sleep. A patient's account of a case of insomnia, 377.

Sloane Maternity Hospital, 91.

Smart, C. Water-supply of towns and cities, 539.

Smith, A. G. Education and care of the idiot, 364, 373.

Smith, W. E. Pathology of irreducible and strangulated hernia, 176.

Societies. American Climatological Association, 470, 489; American Laryngological Association, 454, 519, 540, 571; American Medical Association, 429, 449, 452, 467; American Medical Editor's Association, 468, 529; American Surgical Association, 420, 443, 465; Association of American Physicians, 595, 600, 613; Boston Society for Medical Improvement, 7, 60, 107, 156, 202, 203, 251, 395, 418; Boston Society for Medical Observation, 85, 252, 347, 488; Boston Medico-Psychological Society, 230, 373; Cambridge Society for Medical Improvement, 206; Chicago Gynæcological Society, 323; Connecticut Medical Society, 568; Essex North District Medical Society, 488; Massachusetts Medical Society, 159, 227, 321, 437, 529, 548, 553, 562, 590; Massachusetts Medico-legal Society, 254, 574; New York Academy of Medicine, 12, 38, 135, 180, 231, 348, 398, 495, 616, New York County Medical Association, 109, 207, 298; New York, Medical Society of the State of, 159; New York Neurological Society, 14, 182, 302, 375, 492; New York State Medical Association, 396; New York State Medical Society, 618; Obstetrical Society of Boston, 61, 158, 254, 295, 464; Philadelphia, Pathological Society of, 89; Rhode Island Medical Society, 297, 594; Pennsylvania State Sanitary Convention, 515, 537; Suffolk District Medical Society, 11, 35, 132, 175, 274, 345, 416, 514, 592.

Somerville. Typhoid fever in Somerville, Mass., Durell, T. M., 60.

Specialists, 310.

Spina bifida Operation for the cure of spina bifida, Bradford, E. H., 169.

Spitzka. Brain of a porpoise, 375; a case of neurogliomatous hypertrophy of the pons oblongata, 375.

Spring, C. W. A case of cyanosis, 4.

Stendish, M. A case of alcoholic paralysis preceded and accompanied by amblyobia ex abusu, with remarks thereon, 361.

Stanton. "O Tempora! O Mores!" 570.

Starr, M. A. The intra-cranial tracts, their physiology and its bearing on the diagnosis of lesions of the centrum semi-ovale, 180; vaso-motor neuroses, 303.

Stature. Hereditary stature, 281.

Stedman, H. R. Recent progress in mental disease, 80.

Stevens, G. B. The Improvement's Society's report on the Massachusetts medical examiner system, 238.

Stockman, C. W. Pneumonia and its treatment, 265.

Storer, H. R. Vaginal fibroid tumor, 297; the anticipatory treatment of local epidemics, 298.

Stricture. Subcutaneous division of urethral stricture, Mastin, C. H., 465.

Strikes from a medical point of view, 521.

Strong, C. P. Rectal disease of uterine origin, 151, 158.

Sturgis, R. Recurrent headache in children and its treatment, 128.

Suicide in China, Henry, A., 45.

Suicides in Great Britain, 357.

Surgery. Caries of tarsus, amputation, Porter, C. B., 8; excision of knee, Porter, C. B., 9; amputation at the shoulder-joint for sarcoma of the arm, Cabot, A. T., 11; the indications for laparotomy in penetrating stab and shot wounds of the abdomen, Bryant, J. D., 12; cerebral surgery, 41; American Surgical Association, 420, 443; a consideration of the bacteria of surgical diseases, 443; surgery of the pancreas, Senn, N., 444.

Syphilis. On the limitation of the contagious stage of syphilis, especially in its relations to marriage, Otis, F. N., 147.

Tarsus. Caries of tarsus, amputation, Porter, C. B., 8.

Taste. The nerve of taste, Dana, C. L., 302.

Tea. Chronic tea-poisoning, Bullard, W. N., 314, 321; chronic tea-poisoning, Dana, C. L., 406; a case of delirium tremens caused by chewing tea, Slayter, W. B., 578.

Thermo-cautery, new, Hammond, G. M., 492.

Thomas, T. G. Vaginal and vulvar enterocele, 38.

Thompson, A. A case of protracted pregnancy, 190.

Thornton, J. D. The jumpers, 190.

Tilden, G. H. Report on the progress of dermatology, 367.

Townsend, C. W. An analysis of 412 cases of lobar pneumonia, occurring at the Massachusetts General Hospital between January 1, 1870 and December 31, 1885, 274.

Toxicology. Poetry and toxicology, 307.

Tracheotomy. A case of tracheotomy in a neonatus, Hanson, H. H., 105.

Training-Schools for nursing the insane, 425.

Tubercle. The staining of the bacillus of tubercle, Cushing, E. W., 268, 277; should nurses who are tuberculous be allowed the care of children? Gannett, W. W., 385, 395.

Tuberculosis. Tuberculosis of bone, 17; acute miliary tuberculosis, Shattuck, G. B., 156; buccal tuberculosis, Delavan, D. B., 543.

Tumors. An uncommonly large fatty tumor, Porter, C. B., 61; a study of the etiology of tumors, McNamara, L. J., 109; two cases of cerebral tumor, with autopsy, Lane, E. B., 247; a mediastinal tumor, Whittier, E. N., 289, 395; vaginal fibroid tumor, Storer, H. R., 297; cases of tumors in hernia region, Post, A., 486.

Turnbull, F. M. A report of three cases of melancholia, being especially a consideration of the prognosis, 230.

Tyndall. Theory of vaccination, 381.

Typhoid Fever. The pulmonary complications of typhoid fever, Harrington, F. B., 28, 37; typhoid fever in Somerville, Mass., Durell, T. M., 60; the sanitary significance of cases of sporadic typhoid fever, Dudley, P., 540; typhoid fever, Porcher, F. P., 596.
Undercurrents of modern medicine, Hodges, R. M., 529, 553.
Urethran. Chorea treated with urethran, Abbot, S. L., 419; urethran, another new hypnotic, 475.
Urinary System. A case of extrophy of the bladder, Gay, G. W., 6; a tumor of the bladder, complicated by the presence of a calculus, Cabot, A. T., 7; a case of multiple calculi in the bladder, Cabot, A. T., 8; urethral calculus, Porter, C. B., 8; dilatation of phimosis, Harwood, C. W., 85; chronic disease of the kidneys and bladder, Minot, F., 108; primary tuberculosis of the kidney, Grauer, Fr., 111; ocular symptoms in renal disease, Williams, H. W., 157; enlarged prostate; difficult catheterization: question of cystotomy, Gannett, W. W., 252; simulated vesical and renal calculus at ten years, Rotch, T. M., 242, 252; two cases of nephritis varicellosa, Högyes, 261; the significance of small quantities of sugar in the urine, McBride, T. A., 348; sacculation and perforation of the bladder as consequences of chronic retention of urine, Gouley, J. W. S., 397; nephrectomy on a patient twenty-three months old, 448; subcutaneous division of urethral stricture, Mastin, C. H., 465; albuminuria in health, Noorden, C. von, 550; morbus brightii, Wright, 570; two rare varieties of rupture of the bladder, Pousson, A., 577.
Vaccination. Humanized virus, Martin, S. C., 22, 94; humanized and bovine vaccine virus, Chapin, C. V., 70; humanized virus once more, Chapin, C. V., 143; Tyndall's theory of vaccination, 381; vaccination, Welch, W. M., 539; the care of animals in the propagation of vaccine, Zuill, W. L., 540.
Vanilla poisoning, 476.
Varicella Co-existence of scarlet fever and varicella in a child two and a half years old. Ayer, J. B., 108.
Veer, V. The water-supply of cities and villages, 160.
Vermont. Insanity in Vermont, 379.
Vertigo. Essential vertigo, Bremen, L., 467.
Vesalius. An old anatomical preparation, Roth, 118.
Vickery, H. F. Enlarged cervical glands, 219, 229.
Vienna. Letter from Vienna, Jackson, H., 142; letter from Vienna, Louis, I., 238.
Virus. Humanized virus, Martin, S. C., 22, 94, 167; humanized and bovine vaccine virus, Chapin, C. V., 70; humanized virus once more, Chapin, C. V., 143.
Vomiting in Pregnancy. Causality in disease applied to the phenomenon of vomiting in pregnancy, Kelly, J. E., 337, 245.
Wadsworth, O. F. Recent progress in ophthalmology, 31.
Walton, G. L. A case of concussion followed by paralyses, pointing to hæmorrhage into the fissure of Rolando, 3, 11; cases of functional and organic injury to the central nervous system caused by trauma, 102, 109.
Warner, E. A case of diabetes in a child-bearing patient, 436.
Water-Supply of cities and villages, Veer, V., 160.
Water. The influence of sewerage and water-supply on the death-rate in cities, 379; how the therapeutical value of our mineral waters may be increased, Rice, C. C., 489; tests for organic impurities in water, Formad, H. F., 515; water-supply of towns and cities, Smart, C., 539.
Waxham, F. E. Feeding-bottle for use in cases of intubation of the larynx, 328.
Weeks, A. P. Acute inversion of the uterus, 418.
Welch, W. M. Vaccination, 539.
Wells, F. Specimen from lung of a case of "nailers" or "grinders consumption," 396.
Whitman, R. A case of pistol-shot wound of the head resulting in abscess of the brain, with a report of the autopsy, 170, 175.
Whitney, W. F. Localized amyloid degeneration, 158; recent progress in pathology and pathological anatomy, 483.
Whittemore, J. H. The late Dr. J. H. Whittemore, 69.
Whittier, E. N. Cases of anæmia, 57; a mediastinal tumor, 289, 395.
Williams, H. F. A clinical report of cases treated by pneumatic differentiation, 473.
Williams, H. W. Ocular symptoms in renal disease, 157.
Withington, C. F. Military drill as a means of physical training for boys, 433, 438.
Wilson, F. S. Importations of foreign rags into American ports, 516.
Wing, C. E. Epidemic in North Carolina, 279.
Women. The admission of women to the operating theatres of general hospitals, 452.
Wood, H. C. Hygiene of old age, 518.
Woodbury F. Physic tippling and medicine bibbing, 517.
Woodward, R. Action of the Worcester District Medical Society on the death of Rufus Woodward, M.D., 46.
Worcester Medical Improvement Society. Action on the death of Rufus Woodward, M.D., 46.
Workshops. Sanitation in workshops and factories, 282.
Wright. The microscope in its relation to disease, 570; morbus brightii, 570.
Wyman, M. Complimentary dinner to Dr. Morrill Wyman, 206.
Wyman, S. E. Anatomy of irreducible and strangulated hernia, 176.
Yellow Fever in Brazil: Friere's inoculation, Lane, H. M., 534.
Zeuner, P. The diagnostic value of the knee phenomenon or the patella tendon reflex in diseases of the nervous system, 468.
Zuill. The care of animals in the propagation of vaccine, 540.